

LENTO RISE & RECLINE CHAIR

The Lento Rise & Recliner Chair is a totally adjustable chair that will suit practically any user's needs. It's easy to use and can provide support for the most basic or complex conditions.

The easy adjustability of the Lento riser recliner means that it can easily cater to the most basic of needs and the most advanced. Even better, the same chair can be used with the same person as their needs change over time. There are no tools or additional parts needed – simply adjust the chair to meet the user's needs and provide made-to-measure support at every opportunity.

You also have the option of switching out the cushions and supports to provide even more personalised postural support, including extendable and adjustable wings. The Lento comes with an adjustable waterfall lateral backrest as standard but can be switched out or altered to suit any individual. You can also add or remove wadding from each cushion for even further postural management needs. If pressure relief is an issue, the Lento can be adjusted and upgraded in seconds from medium pressure relieving Visco cushions to high gel cushions or very high alternating air cushions.

Features

- Different size castors available
- Inbuilt or removable cushions for pressure relief
- Infection prevention and control version available
- Fully magnetic handset
- Single or dual motor versions available
- Different back rest cushion options available to accommodate user needs
- Different healthcare and infection control compliant vinyl or fabric options available
